We're investing in your future. Together.

We're driven to provide financial security for Canadians and our communities, not just today, but for generations to come. To succeed, we need to embed a mindset of sustainability into everything we do – because we know our financial prosperity and the wealth of our clients is deeply connected to the health and well-being of our planet and our communities.

We became carbon neutral equivalent in 2020 and have set targets to become net-zero in our operations and our investments by 2040 and 2050, respectively. In the meantime, we will continue reducing our emissions and investing in climate solutions to get us to net-zero.

Learn more about our net-zero commitments and how we're helping to build a climate-resilient future at integratedreport.cooperators.ca.
